A. O. Smith Ready to Reopen On Settlement of GM Strike Issues

Granite City's A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame plant, shut down during the past six weeks due to the General Motors-United Auto Workers contract dispute, will reopen as soon as all issues are settled at the two principal manufacturing plants owned by the local plant, a spokesman said today.

No immediate preparations to activate assembly lines at A. O. Smith have been made pending further action on a tentative United Auto Workers pact agreed upon with General Motors in Detroit yesterday, the spokesman said.

A. O. Smith manufactures auto frames for the Chevrolet plant at St. Louis and at Janesville, Wis. At normal operation, the plant employs 1000 to 1200 workers.

Details of the tentative settlement were withheld at Detroit pending its consideration by the union's 15-member GM council, which must approve the pact before it is passed on to the general membership for ratification.

The council was scheduled to take up the proposed contract in meetings beginning this morning.

If the council approves, the proposed agreement would be sent to the general membership for ratification—a procedure which would take about ten days.

While a settlement of the strike appeared imminent, the possibility developed that the eight-week GM walkout may be prolonged at three plants in St. Louis because of local issues.

Those issues are the Chevrolet Assembly plant to which frames are furnished by A. O. Smith.

For that reason, Smith officials said today, it is impossible at this time to determine whether a call-back of employees here will be made effective.

"We can only say that operations at A. O. Smith will be resumed as soon as our shipping points at St. Louis and at Janesville become active," the spokesman said.

He pointed out that maintenance crews have been working throughout the shutdown and that assembly lines can be activated within a short period.

Closed Since Sept. 28
The A. O. Smith plant was shut down Sept. 28 with a layoff of 850 workers employed in production at that time.

The economic impact from the General Motors strike also has to some extent affected Granite City Steel Co., which provides most of the steel used by A. O. Smith in its local production of auto frames.

Earl R. Bramblett, GM's vice-president for personnel and head of the negotiating team, described the tentative new pact as inflationary and added that it is the pattern there in labor contracts.

Seven Wounded In Carbondale

Seven persons, including three SIU security guards on the Carbondale campus and a bomb squad police officer, were reported wounded this morning in a series of shootings that broke out in Carbondale while SIU guards were investigating an apparently abandoned auto.

The shootings occurred off the SIU campus, but started on a street bordering the campus when two SIU guards stopped to investigate a parked auto.

An occupant of the car jumped into the driver's seat and drove away chased by the guards.

The car stopped a few blocks away, the driver jumped out, fired a shot into the crowd and fled Tuesday by bus.

Several separate shooting incidents occurred later in the morning as the first shots were fired. SIU students were reported not involved.

The bomb squad at the Granite City Army Depot was asked to stand by early this morning, but had not been called out at noon. The reason for alerting the bomb squad was not given.

Union Electric Seeks Bi-State Rate Boost

Rate increases that would boost electric bills an average of $2.22 per month in the Illinois sector of the metropolitan area are sought in petitions filed Tuesday by Union Electric Co. with the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield.

The utility sought rate increases in its Missouri service area that would amount to an estimated $1.88 per month. Petitions for that increase were filed with the Missouri Public Service Commission.

Union Electric asked that the rate increases be made effective Dec. 10, but it could take a year before a final ruling is made since the two commissions have authority to suspend such a request for 11 months if they so desire.

The utility received its last rate increase in Missouri in October, 1969, under a schedule that would bring in about $10.2 million a year. The new increase sought this week would produce about $22 million a year for both states.

Charles J. Daugherty, president, said a construction expansion program planned over the next five years is estimated at $800 million.

Granite City Students Win Scholastic Honors

Three Granite City students attending Xavier High School for Girls, 3733 W. Pine Blvd., St. Louis, recently gave the local representation at the school a clean sweep in the scholastic honors field with the induction into the National Honor Society of Miss Lisa Hartman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hartman, 3340 Red Bud Drive.

Miss Hartman, a National Merit recommended student, joined the society, Miss Peggy Barth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Barth, 38 Riviera Drive, and Miss Nancy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Thompson, 2548 Waterman Ave.

The induction took place at a recent all-school assembly. Students are elected into the society by a vote of both students and faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership and service. Membership is restricted to a percentage of the student body.

At present, the local girls are three of only 13 members. All are senior year students and winners of Illinois State Scholarship awards.

4 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

The temporary security officers were hired by the superintendent's office and not by the board, said McManaway. "But I'm in accord with the decision," he added.

Next regular meeting of the board is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at the Madison County Jail.

Madison Urges $250 Fee For 'Outside' Fire Calls

Residents in unincorporated areas are urged fire protection service by the Madison volunteer fire department will be charged $250 each fire call, starting Jan. 1, if the increased rate is approved by the fire department's board.

Madison city aldermen, meeting Tuesday evening, unanimously recommended the higher fire call charges by increasing the present fee from $100 to $250 to offset rising costs of the new hardware.

The Madison fire department fees go to the fire department's city limits, while the Granite City department refuses to respond to calls other than those within the municipal boundaries.

Corporation Counsel John H. Gitchett said, "As all fire calls go to the fire department, a volunteer association, and not to the city treasury, I think it is up to the department to decide whether the rates should be increased."

Council members then approved the recommendation referring it to Fire Chief Eldon Rhoades.

More Guards at Madison High; Dragich Resigns

Additional security guards were assigned at Madison High School this morning in response to requests by students and parents to make the school safer for students. Attendance was normal today for the first time since two students were injured in a fight Nov. 8.

At the same time, it was announced that Raymond Dragich, superintendent of schools, has submitted his resignation, effective upon action by the school board. The move is unrelated to the MHS events.

Dragich has been considering other possible jobs since last spring.

School Board President Chester McManaway said today that in addition to the regular school security guards, two off-duty policemen and one matron have been placed at the school on temporary duty until the board can meet and hire full-time security personnel.

The temporary security officers were hired by the superintendent's office and not by the board, said McManaway. "But I'm in accord with the decision," he added.

Next regular meeting of the board is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7 p.m. at the Madison County Jail.

School Board OKs New Adult Training Plan

The Granite City Board of Education approved a new adult education in-service training program and a budget of $5892 during a regular meeting Monday night.

The program is designed to train teachers of night adult education classes in the district. It will be a seven-session program beginning Feb. 15, according to M. A. Wittevrang, adult education director.

He designed the program in conjunction with participating unions and industries involved in night school training and obtained approval from the State Office of Public Instruction. The state will pay most of the cost, and there should be no cost to the district.

Pioneering Effort
"It is the first time that a local school system is given this kind of responsibility," Wittevrang said. "We are pioneering the program."

Twelve adult program teachers will be involved in the first sessions for which there will be seven instructors, including Wittevrang.

Assisting him in the development of the program were E. Rule, apprenticeship training coordinator for the Carpenters District Council of Madison County and Vicinity, Richard Borz of Southern Illinois University—Southwestern; and Clyde Beinhof of Rite Electric Co.

Spec. 4 David Batson Wins Bronze Star

Army Spec. 4 David D. Batson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Batson, 2819 Roosevelt Ave., who was wounded seriously in action in Vietnam on July 14, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device for valor, according to word received by his parents.

Since his release from hospital confinement in Vietnam and Japan, the local serviceman has been reassigned to duty with the Army Postal Corps in Korea. He arrived in Korea a few weeks ago.

Spec. 4 Batson also received the Purple Heart Medal while hospitalized at a military facility in Japan. Details concerning the incident for which the Bronze Star Medal was awarded have not yet been learned by his family.

Spec. 4 Batson suffered the wound when struck by small arms fire while on a combat operation against a hostile force. The bullet penetrated the chest and resulted in serious lung congestion.

He was placed on the seriously ill list and subsequently underwent four operations at military hospitals. Paul Batson, a brother reported, further plastic surgery still may be required before the local soldier is pronounced completely fit, his brother said.

A 1968 graduate of Granite City high school, Spec. 4 Batson has been in service about 18 months. Before joining the Army he was employed at Laclede Steel Co.

Prior to receiving the wound, the soldier had participated in the Cambodian operation and had just returned to duty in Vietnam when injured.

Spec. 4 Batson's name and address appears in today's Yale Mail Call list.

Rotary Ex-President Speaker at Club Meet

Gib Maxson, immediate past president of the Downtown St. Louis Rotary Club was the guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday at the YMCA.

He told those present of some of the charitable activities undertaken by the St. Louis club, a group with 460 members. He said that in the past eight years the club has provided seven "Youthmobiles" to the St. Louis YMCA which are used in working with inter-city children.

The YMCA fills the vehicles with games and provides a trained game leader who goes into the streets to work with the youths. Five of the vehicles are still in operation.

He also told of the efforts of the club in helping a St. Louis priest start Sophia House which provides a place for motivated students to study when they can not find a suitable place, in an effort to help inter-city children.

The club also maintains an interest-free loan fund for student nurses to help them complete their training, he said.

He also told of several manpower operations in which the club engages, including a project providing men to help the Salvation Army deliver Christmas baskets to St. Louis families each year.

One of the most gratifying projects of the past year, Maxson said, was the organization between Washington University students and businessmen after the Kent State University riot and shootings. The group exchanged ideas on where the society was going and what was needed to be done about present trends. The Rotary Club was commended by the university for its part in the organization of the meeting.

152 Servicemen Aided By Local Red Cross

One hundred and fifty-two service contacts with servicemen and their families were made by the local Red Cross chapter during October, it was announced by Edwin Gillie, past chapter chairman, Tuesday at a monthly board meeting.

Norman Hall, a board member, reviewed several Red Cross national publications. It was reported that in the last year 1683 free telephone calls were made upon their entry into the U. S. under arrangements made by the Red Cross.

Madison Acquires Tract for City Playground Site

A wedge-shaped tract of land, located at the convergence of Rhodes and Sixth streets in Madison, will be purchased by the city of Madison as a playground site. The transaction was authorized by Madison aldermen at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

For the past several years the property has been used by the city as a children's playground with permission of the owner, Mrs. Kathleen Lewis, 1670 Fifth St., it was reported.

Mrs. Lewis who attended Tuesday's council session said the original contract involving the purchase of the property was signed by city officials 15 months ago, with the transaction never completed.

A meeting with the property owner and Fourth Ward Alderman Mike Sikora, chairman of the aldermanic Public Grounds and Buildings Committee, was set for immediately after the council session to review the contract and finalize the acquisition.

Acknowledge Debt
A $34,489 debt owned by the city of Madison to Leo Wall contracting firm for construction of the Diamond Plating plant building in Maers Industrial Park will be paid, although source of the funds to reimburse the contractor still remains in doubt.

A resolution acknowledging the city owes Wall the amount was adopted by Madison aldermen at the city council meeting Tuesday evening. The debt was discussed at length at the previous council session.

Corporation Counsel John H. Gitchoff said that city officials were not aware the money was still outstanding until after the 1970-71 appropriation ordinance was filed. "Unless we can come up with the money from some other source, we cannot pay the bill from the current appropriations," the attorney said.

Asked whether a $3854 monthly rental fee to be paid by the city by Diamond Plating when the firm occupies the building, could be applied to the debt, Gitchoff said he believed that revenue produced from this source already has been calculated as income for the current fiscal year and therefore figured in the appropriation ordinance.

"If it has not been included, we may be able to work something out with Wolf," the attorney said. He noted that the current legal rate of interest on the debt would be 6% when no interest rate appears on the original contract.

Total cost of constructing the building was listed at $433,983. Originally, the city agreed to build and equip the plant at a cost of $642,000. However, the contractor later agreed to build and equip the plant at a cost of $433,983. The cost of repairs could run into thousands of dollars, the report noted.

Equipment Damaged
Equipment owned by Rust Construction Co., Belleville, was damaged by vandals at the drainage ditch between Sunset Drive and Dale Avenue, it was reported at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday. The cost of repairs could run into thousands of dollars, the report noted.

GC to Host Maroons In Season's Finale

The Granite City High School Warriors will meet the Belleville-West Maroons here at 8 p.m. Friday in the final football game of the 1970 season.

A victory would give the Warriors an 8-and-1 record and the best season for them since 1937. Should Alton lose to Wood River in their game Friday, and the Warriors win, they would tie for conference title.

Win or lose, the Warriors will finish no lower than second place.

Belleville-West is the defending conference champion. They beat the Warriors 34 to 8 in last season's game. The Warriors have not beaten Belleville-West since 1959.

Coach Bruce Arnold is in his first year as head coach with the Maroons. Arnold joined the Belleville-West staff as a sophomore coach in 1962. He went to Belleville-East as assistant head football coach in 1965 and returned to West this season.

The return of Arnold marks the return of the "Flying T" formation as the basis of the Maroon attack. The Maroons also use the double wing with a man in motion, similar to the "Flyin' T."

Maroon Injuries
Before the season started the Maroons were hurt by injuries of two players in auto accidents. Roy Hankhammer, a tackle, and Dale Huvers, fullback have been out all season.

Belleville-West's record is 5-and-3 overall and 2-and-2 in conference. The Maroons have lost to Belleville-East 22 to 12, Collinsville 13 to 12 and Alton 28 to 0.

They have beaten Assumption 32 to 6, Quincy 20 to 6, Wood River 14 to 6, Alton 21 to 7, and Belleville-West 34 to 8.

Coach Arnold described his team, "We're small and slow; the only one on the team with any speed is Mike Mig (5-10, 155, senior). He runs the 100 in about :10.3 which is not superfast."

"Size is a problem for us as we have only one boy over 200. We're small and slow; the only one on the team with any speed is Mike Mig (5-10, 155, senior). He runs the 100 in about :10.3 which is not superfast."

Trojans Travel to Eagles Nest Friday

The Madison High School Trojans will meet the Eagles at Civic Memorial in Bethalto at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

It will be the last football game of the season for the Trojans, and the last game of the season for the Eagles.

Civic Memorial played a big part in organizing the Mississippi Valley Conference which Madison did not join.

Coach Ed Hartweg noted that Madison has defeated the Eagles only once in his seven years and that was last year's game which the Trojans won 28-7.

Last year was not a good year for the Eagles as they had only one victory, and that was against Highland.

Civic Memorial this season has an overall record of 6-and-2 and a conference record of 2-and-2. They lost to Highland 20 to 16 and Roxana 19 to 13.

The Eagles have won against Wood River 18 to 12, Jerseyville 38 to 16, Dupo 70 to 14, Triad 35 to 12, Mater Dei 42 to 8 and Mascoutah 30 to 8.

34-28 Record
Hartweg is in his seventh year as head coach and so far has an overall record of 34-and-28. He has been teaching in Bethalto since 1957.

According to Coach Hartweg, "Everything depends on attitude. Without that you can't win even the best. I think our guys are pretty dedicated this year."

The Eagles started the season with 18 returning lettermen, but lost two in injuries. Tackle Dennis Fine was hurt in the season's first game.

Martin was hurt in the first game of the season against Wood River. Both were experienced returning lettermen.

The Eagles take to the air a lot, and that's not a play on words, the coach said.

In their last game against Mascoutah they passed 26 times, connecting 16 times in scoring three touchdowns.

In 1968 they beat Madison out of the conference with aggressive passing.

The Eagles send out five receivers - Dale Bottoms, end, John Eaves, end, Rich Imel, halfback, Terry Thurston, halfback, and Paul Phipps, wingback, and for a spare receiver they send in John Decker, wingback. One of the five receivers are generally in the clear, according to the Eagle coach.

Several Speedsters
Civic Memorial has no super speedster but several players have what you would call good speed," said Hartweg, "we have an all team and Madison should outweigh us 30 to 40 pounds. Morin is the only man on the line we have that is over 200 (Terry Moran, 6-1, 206, junior right guard). Rick Imel, our halfback, is about the fastest man on the team but I have never timed him so far as fast."

The Civic Memorial offensive line up against Madison will be John Eaves, 6-4, 195, senior, left end; Brad Rogers, 5-10, 190, sophomore, left tackle; Jeff May, 6-0, 170, senior, left guard; Mike Wal, 6-0, 171, senior, center; Terry Moran, 6-1, 206, junior, right guard; Gregg Mick, 6-0, 180, senior, right tackle; Dale Bottom, 6-2, 165, senior, right end.

The backfield for the Eagles will see Dennis Jones, 6-1, 195, senior, quarterback; Terry Thurston, 5-9, 150, junior, fullback; Richard Imel, 5-10, 175, senior, halfback; and Paul Phipps, 5-7, 150, senior, left half.

Defensive Changes
Only a few changes are made in the lineup of the Eagles in defense and offense. Coming in on defense will be Roger Tucker, 5-8, 150, senior, end; two new guards, Bob Vocher, 5-1, 165, senior, and Mike Trim, 6-3, 180, junior, and John Downs, 180, 5-9, senior, defensive half.

Madison goes into their last game with an overall record of 2-and-2. The Trojans have beaten Triad and Dupo this season.

Coach Al Vanderhaar of Madison said, "This is a chance for us to come back and finish with a 3-and-2 conference season. This is going to be a tough game to win."

"They have a passing game that is going to be hard to stop. The only hope we will have will be if everyone plays heads up. We know their patterns, and what they are going to do. We also know how to stop them, but doing so and remembering what to do when the game starts are sometimes two different things. After such a tremendous 74 to 14 victory over Dupo, it was a complete letdown by getting beat 90 to 8 by Roxana."

"It has been hard to direct any real weak spots in the Eagle game. We are going to have to score and we have not been a threat."

Clothes To Grow With Children

Reduce demands on the family budget by selecting children's clothing with growth features.

The growing child needs clothing that maintains both good fit and appearance over a reasonable length of time. To buy garments too large with the idea that your child will grow into them is false economy. Furthermore, this practice may have a negative psychological effect if the garments are so big that they become uncomfortable and unattractive. Careful selection of clothing with growth features will help insure satisfaction in wear and maintenance of good fit and appearance over an extended period of time.

The following features and designs will allow garments to grow with your child:

Deep hems or tucks in dresses and skirts and wide cuffs on trousers to allow adjustment in length.

Adjustable long straps on jumpers and overalls.

For skirts or trousers that button on at the waist, buttons that you can lower on the blouse of skirts to increase bodice length.

Extra-long skirts and blouses. Pleated skirts with adjustable or elasticized waistlines.

Raglan or kimono sleeves rather than set-in sleeves.

Large underarm or leg seams to let out as needed.

Wide seams at centerback of pants.

Knit or stretch fabrics with built-in "give" to allow for growth.

Fullness in the form of gathers and tucks.

Sneakers For Children
Children with healthy, normal feet can wear properly fitted sneakers and soft shoes. However the fit of these shoes is just as important as the fit of any other type of shoe.

In addition to checking the fit of sneakers, look for:

Thick, resilient soles which are firm but spring back into shape when bent.

Reinforced heel counters (stiff reinforcing in heel area).

Reinforced toe areas (toe bumpers).

Cushioned insoles with built-up arches.

Many soft shoes have too little depth in the toe area, which causes too much pressure against the toes. Consequently, the shoes break out in the toe area. Sneakers usually have thinner soles and less depth in the toe cap than dress shoes.

Many people buy soft shoes too small. Both the give of the fabric and the open cut styling may make a smaller size seem to fit.

It is important to keep sneakers clean because of perspiration and bacteria build-up. Look for sneakers that you can launder. Use moderate temperatures to prevent shrinkage, and check the size of sneakers often for proper fit.

Pleasant Foods
If you are looking for ways to stretch your food dollar, and who isn't, using foods from the plentiful foods list for November will help. The foods that will be in good supply and have lower price tags this month are: turkey, broiler-fryers, pork, dry split peas, fresh potatoes, rice, onions, fresh cranberries, cranberry sauce, canned applesauce, apple juice, fresh apples, and walnuts.

Pickle Storage

school board is Nov. 18. McManaway said, "We probably will have one before that." At the meeting, the board also will consider Dragich's resignation.

About 250 of the school's 650 students failed to attend classes Tuesday. About 100 of those absent appeared in front of the school displaying signs which said, "Clean up your school," "End the violence," "We want some action," "We want an education" and "We want a new principal."

After the meeting, Brown said, "We've aired a lot of problems and talked about the situation, and we've tried to present some plans to solve the problems."

"They're wanting more security. At times we get through to them some of the things that have our hands tied and I think they understand that."

The students requested that four security guards be added to the school's staff and the proposal is being taken under consideration by the school board.

Urge Rule Enforcement
They also asked that present school rules be strictly enforced to deal with offenders quickly and efficiently. The students expressed the feeling that present rules are adequate if properly enforced.

Commenting on the degree of communication, Brown said he maintains an "open door policy" for students and faculty, adding, "Maybe they feel they have to be invited."

He said it will be made clear that student comments are welcomed.

The students also met with Raymond Dragich, superintendent; John Palchoff, an assistant to Dragich; Chester McManaway, president of the school board; John Gitchoff, board attorney; Police Sgt. William Fanning, Madison youth officer; and Mayor Mike Sasyk.

use of the city council chambers for the hearing.

The possibility of asking the state to include charges of alleged air pollution by the company's basic oxygen facilities was discussed, but the board decided to ask the city council to improve methods of operating the facility without seeking state action at this time.

Board Chairman Henry Biernicki said Wednesday that he expects the state hearing to take place some time in December as the company must be given at least 21 days to prepare for the hearing after notification is given.

The board decided to retain the consulting firm of Ryckman, Engleley and Tomlinson of St. Louis to prepare a preliminary draft of an application for federal assistance. Biernicki said it is hoped that the federal government will supply enough funds that, when matched with local funds, a full-time air pollution control department can be formed in Granite City.

Several board members charged that the Reilly Tar & Chemical Corp., 1900 Edwardsville Road, has made several pollution emissions in the past week. Holscher was ordered to look into the alleged violations and report to the board at its next regular meeting Dec. 7.

A Problem With Moles

Moles are tough to control unless you treat the soil with an insecticide and keep after them with traps.

Each spring and fall these pesky animals come to life and make a career of rooting up back yards. When they select your yard it's not very funny. Soil treatment with chlordane and trapping is most effective to prevent damage.

Moles are most active in areas where white grubs and other soil insects are plentiful. Moles apparently live in shrub plantings and wooded areas and move into nearby turf areas to feed. The insecticide eliminates the soil insects they prefer and forces them to forage elsewhere.

To treat your turf for grubs and discourage moles use 45% chlordane as a spray or purchase granular products containing chlordane. Follow directions on the container. You can use the combination fertilizer and insecticide with equal results. One application of insecticide every 5 years is adequate.

Extra treatments with insecticides (overkill) doesn't improve effect on moles but does change ecology of the soil. Repeated applications combined with fertilizer prevents survival of earthworms and pollutes your soil.

Trapping is necessary when moles make an exploratory trip into your treated lawn. Harpoon traps are commonly sold in garden stores and are effective when properly used. Be sure the prongs easily reach the tunnel. While setting the trap raise and release the prongs several times so the earth will not prevent full trap action. When the trap is sprung the mole may still be alive. Carefully dig near the trap to locate the mole. Often moles are released and escape when the trap is pulled out of the soil. When using traps, be persistent! Move the trap frequently and always be certain the mole tunnel is shallow enough for the trap to work.

Long-Distance Phone Rate Increase Sought

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for an increase in rates for long-distance calls within the state, which would produce additional revenue estimated at $500,000 a year.

The telephone utility, which serves the Quad-Cities area, asks that the rate hike take effect this week. It claims that the increase is required to maintain uniform long-distance rates throughout Illinois.

The ICC last Friday granted Illinois Bell Telephone Co. similar rate increases in the rest of the state.

The company asked that it be permitted to change its long-distance rates to two night-and-day periods, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 8 a.m., the same in effect for calls to other states, rather than the three periods now in effect from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., and 7 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Froemling Heads Chamber Region

Albert H. Froemling, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, was elected Monday night as president of the Metro-East Chambers of Commerce Association (Mecca). He succeeds Earl Detmer of Edwardsville.

Howard Colquitt, manager of the local Chamber, was elected as Mecca secretary, succeeding David Fickes of Edwardsville. Froemling was replaced as vice-president by Marvin Meyer, president of the East St. Louis Chamber.

Colquitt and Froemling are Granite Cityans. Froemling is president of the Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The election took place at a bi-monthly dinner at Edwardsville. Area legislators are to be invited to the next meeting in January.

Jewett "Skip" Bennett of the Belleville Area College explained the police associate degree training program which has been started there and is being expanded.

Mecca members voted to ask state and federal authorities to expedite highway construction in Madison and St. Clair counties to make up for the work lost and the road taxes paid here during the federal highway road fund freeze in 1968-70.

The group endorsed a suit by the Greater Alton Association of Commerce and others, describing the freeze as illegal and asking that $19 million in federal funds be deposited in escrow in Madison county banks for future highway work.

Magic and Religion to Be Presented to Local Public

Magic and religious education will be combined in an entertaining way for Quad-Cityans next week, thanks to the visit of John DeVries, a famed magician who has presented Biblical messages to countless thousands of youngsters and adults.

His appearances here are being sponsored by several "community minded citizens" who have sought to avoid personal publicity. The visit by DeVries has been approved by the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association.

The presentations will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

Performances of magic at parochial schools are set for St. Joseph's, 1 p.m. Monday, Nov. 16; St. Elizabeth, 9 a.m., and St. Margaret Mary, 1 p.m., both on Tuesday, Nov. 17; St. Mark's school, Venice, 9 a.m., and St. Mary's school, Madison, 2 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 18; and Sacred Heart, 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 19.

To Visit Five Churches
There will be five public performances at churches here next week.

The schedule of 7:30 p.m. appearances includes the First United Presbyterian Church, 1641 Third street, Madison, Monday, Nov. 16; St. John's United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki road, Tuesday, Nov. 17; Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Walnut avenue, Wednesday, Nov. 18; and First Assembly of God, 24th street and Grand avenue, Thursday, Nov. 19.

The final performance will be at 9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 20, at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards street.

A resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., DeVries is a businessman-turned-preacher who has averaged 1,000 magically-illustrated messages annually for the past 28 years.

He was born in The Netherlands in 1905 and came to the U. S. as a boy, learning the Ten Commandments in Dutch and English.

Becoming active in a Grand Rapids church, he served as a youth leader, deacon, Sunday school teacher and mission preacher.

Assistant superintendent of a furniture factory, he went into the insulation business in the 1930s. He began devoting full time to religious work in 1942, telling Bible stories at country schools and using visual aids to illustrate them.

Starting with simple magic equipment, he gradually expanded and improved it and also began writing articles for leading religious magazines.

Despite a heart ailment, he has remained active, in the belief that his shows present information and understanding for people of all ages and walks of life.

Mrs. Lieurance, 17, Found Dead at Home

Mrs. Martha Ann Lieurance, 17, of 2239a Washington Ave., was found dead in the bedroom of her apartment Monday.

She was lying on the floor beside a bed with a gunshot wound above the right eye. Beside her was a .22 caliber semi-automatic rifle. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Ray Thomas, deputy coroner.

An inquest is to be held. Born in Rome, N. Y., Mrs. Lieurance lived in California before moving here two months ago.

She is survived by her husband, Robert Lieurance, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. (Rita) Bostik of Rocky Comfort, Mo.

Services were held at 10 a.m. today with burial in Lake View Cemetery, Belleville. An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Hit-Run Collision
A hit and run motorist struck the auto of Dr. Bernard Loitman, St. Louis, a St. Elizabeth Hospital employee, forcing his auto over the median and damaging the right front fender of the car. Both cars were northbound on Madison Avenue when the collision occurred at 8:45 a.m. Monday.

Court of Chevaliers Hold Observance Meet

A breakfast meeting this week at the Grand Cafe.

Dwayne Pritchett was welcomed as the newest member of the court. Three other delegates, Randy Fowler, Gus Schalkham and William Watson, are to receive the degree in a public ceremony scheduled for the latter part of December.

The Chevalier Degree, which each of the attendants holds, is a measure of elimination of duplication. Principal focus of the St. Louis-based program is on heart disease, cancer and stroke.

The Southern Illinois county with the lowest cancer mortality rate was Jasper with 11 cancer deaths or 103.7 per 100,000 population. Clark with 47 deaths had the region's highest mortality rate with an estimated 293.7 per 100,000 or about three times that of Jasper.

Lowest Mortality Rates
Other counties besides Jasper among the 10 in the region with the lowest cancer mortality rates last year were: McDonough, 121.7; Jackson, 122.9; Hardin, 125.0; Tazewell, 126.4; Monroe, 131.5; Pope, 133.1; Calhoun, 142.8; Coles, 145.8; and Madison, 147.1.

Following Clark among the 10 counties with the highest cancer mortality rates were Franklin, 289.1; Brown and Hamilton counties, 285.7; Pike, 283.4; Perry, 282.7; Edwards, 282.4; Alexander, 282.7; Scott, 282.2; and Bond, 253.8.

The difference in death rate, Dr. Steneman, Bi-State RMP coordinator, said, might be explained by the difference in age level of the population. However, Dr. Steneman suggested that other factors may have bearing on cancer mortality and possibly account for some of the wide variations in county mortality rates.

Bi-State RMP is attempting to pinpoint some of these factors through a county-by-county analysis of data such as age distribution and deaths from cancer, heart disease and stroke.

The banquet honored G. Wilmer Bell, Champaign, retired executive officer for the International Supreme Council for Illinois, and Edward Bieser, Collinsville, new executive officer for Illinois. The clown band from Ansar Shrine Temple, Springfield, entertained.

Judge Richard Mills was principal speaker. Bell and Bieser were presented gifts and spoke briefly, as did Charles Hileman of Granite City, state senior counselor.

Other local members attending included Robert Kenney, Paul Miles, Dwayne Pritchett, Michael Schanuel, David Schullinger, Joseph Swiger, Robert Swiger, James Young and John Young. They were accompanied by Gerry Edwards, Pat McKay, Mrs. Jo Meyer and advisors Charles Meyer and Gilbert Watson.

A. H. Froemling Named To Committee Post

A. H. Froemling, president of the Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association of Granite City, has been appointed a member of the Group Insurance Committee of Illinois.

The league is the statewide trade organization serving over 500 savings and loan associations in Illinois.

The purpose of the Group Insurance Committee is to review the group insurance fringe benefit plans which the league is administering for the employees of its members.

Boy Takes Overdose
A Granite City boy, 14, took an overdose of 25 to 30 phenobarbital tablets. It was reported at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday after he had slept all night and all day. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

License Issued
A marriage license has been issued in St. Louis to Miss Laura E. Brewer of Granite City, and Orville E. Deromus of Washington Park.

Sixth of Deaths In This County Due to Cancer

Death toll from cancer in Southern Illinois for the last reported statistical year, which ended July 1, 1969, may have reached a new 10-year high from the standpoint of total lives lost and deaths per 100,000 population.

Statistics just compiled by the Bi-State Regional Medical Program show that 4,409 Southern Illinois lives were claimed by cancer in the 1969-70 statistical year, or 185.2 per 100,000 population. This is an increase of about one death and a rise in estimated death rate from 180.6 the previous year.

Belief the new figures represent a 10-year high is based on projections from statewide records which show a rise from 17,005 cancer deaths in 1960 to 18,864 in 1969.

The cancer death toll for the region represents 15% of deaths from all causes in Southern Illinois.

382 Deaths in County
In Madison County, the cancer death toll was 282, representing 16.3% of total deaths in this county.

Death rate figured per 100,000 population is 147.1, which ranks Madison County as 57th among the 98 counties in Southern Illinois for which the Bi-State RMP has responsibility.

Bi-State RMP, a federally-financed but regionally-governed agency, is responsible for influencing patient care in Southern Illinois and Eastern Missouri in such a way as to improve its quality and contain its cost, the latter through such measures as elimination of duplication. Principal focus of the St. Louis-based program is on heart disease, cancer and stroke.

The Southern Illinois county with the lowest cancer mortality rate was Jasper with 11 cancer deaths or 103.7 per 100,000 population. Clark with 47 deaths had the region's highest mortality rate with an estimated 293.7 per 100,000 or about three times that of Jasper.

Following Clark among the 10 counties with the highest cancer mortality rates were Franklin, 289.1; Brown and Hamilton counties, 285.7; Pike, 283.4; Perry, 282.7; Edwards, 282.4; Alexander, 282.7; Scott, 282.2; and Bond, 253.8.

The difference in death rate, Dr. Steneman, Bi-State RMP coordinator, said, might be explained by the difference in age level of the population. However, Dr. Steneman suggested that other factors may have bearing on cancer mortality and possibly account for some of the wide variations in county mortality rates.

Frank E. White, 71, of Collinsville, a retired general foreman at the General Electric plants there, died at 10:50 a.m. Wednesday at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville, following an illness of several months.

Born in Boulder, Colo., he resided in Collinsville since 1949. He was a member of AF&AM Lodge 877 of Granite City.

Nixon Signs Law To Aid Veterans In Buying Homes

A major piece of legislation designed to assist millions of veterans to get homes of their own has been signed into law by President Nixon.

One provision wipes out an ending date for GI loan benefits for all veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955, and also restores these benefits indefinitely to 5.9 million Korean Conflict and World War II servicemen who did not use them earlier.

Another provision offers a veteran for the first time a program of loans for mobile home purchases—up to $10,000 for a mobile home alone up to $17,500 if he gets a lot to place it on.

A third authorizes VA to make direct loans in any part of the country to certain seriously disabled veterans who are entitled to specially constructed housing.

Provisions of Law
Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson also called attention to provisions of the new law which:

Eliminates a VA funding fee of 5 percent on guaranteed direct home loans to veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955.

Authorizes VA to guarantee loans to refinance existing mortgage loans or other liens on homes owned and occupied by veterans, and allows borrowers to pay lenders any required discounts. The guaranty may be for 60 percent of the loan, or 125,000, whichever is less.

Authorizes VA to guarantee 60 percent, or up to $12,500 of loans for veterans to purchase family units in condominium projects insured by the Federal Housing Agency.

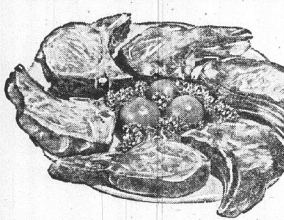

Eliminates Jan. 31, 1975, as the terminal date for VA's direct loan program.

Ticketed After Mishap
Bradley R. Buchheim, 2322 Benton St., was charged with reckless driving after his auto struck the rear of the auto of Freddie L. Hoffman, 2832 Benton, while it was parked in front of his home at 7:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Foran served as Interim U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Illinois from March 1968 until he resigned in June 1970 to reenter private law practice. Foran is senior partner of the Chicago law firm of Foran, Wirtz and Burke.

Oversight in License Form Adds More Cost

Oversight on the part of Illinois motorists, submitting their application for drivers license renewal, is adding up to personal convenience for the applicant and a serious waste of the taxpayers' money, according to Secretary of State John W. Lewis.

Based on current figures, more than 63,000 license renewal applications each year must be returned to Illinois motorists who forgot to fill in their Social Security number, the proper statutory fee or failed to sign the application as required by law.

Secretary Lewis said that each application that must be returned by his office for additional information, or incorrect fee, adds an additional 46 cents to the cost of issuing a new drivers license.

"The amount is not at all insignificant," Lewis stated in pointing out the fact that "the annual total presently represents a waste of public funds in excess of $38,000."

Many of the motorists who delay submitting their renewal application until the last minute and neglect to furnish all the required information—find themselves driving with an expired license, which is unlawful and could result in further inconvenience and expense, Lewis stated.

Seeking to remedy the situation, Secretary Lewis issued a statement appealing today requesting those who receive license renewal notices in the mail to pay particular attention to the instruction card included with each pre-printed application.

AIRMAN JOSEPH M. HALL JR., whose parents reside at 1008 Logan street, Venice, has been assigned to Charleston AFB, S. C., for training and duty in the transportation field. He attended Madison high school.

Deadline to Display New Plates Feb. 15

Midnight Monday, Feb. 15, will be the deadline for displaying 1971 motor vehicle license plates on all vehicles licensed on a calendar year basis, Secretary of State John W. Lewis announced this week.

Secretary Lewis emphasized that this deadline is for having the plates mounted on the vehicles, not merely for having submitted applications, having the plates resting on a desk at home or being carried inside the vehicles.

Processing time for applications, plus delivery time by third class mail, may mean a period of two or three weeks between receipt of the application in the Secretary of State's office and their arrival at the owner's home or business address. Because of the time element, Lewis urged those motorists planning to apply for their plates by mail to submit their applications no later than January 25 to be assured of having their plates in time for the deadline.

Over-the-counter sale of license plates will begin Tuesday, December 1, at two Secretary of State's office outlets in Springfield, the three Motor Vehicle Facilities in Chicago and at 92 banks throughout the state.

Trees Donated, Plan Planting Project

Granite City Steel Co., Gardenaire's Garden Club and the Boy Scouts of America have joined in a beautification and conservation project that began last week in Granite City.

The steel company became interested in the club's tree nursery program, purchased 50 trees big enough to plant permanently and donated the trees to the Gardenaire's.

The ladies of the Gardenaire's needed help with the physical planting of the trees.

Paul Glenn, civic projects chairman for the club, contacted the Boy Scouts who agreed to help with the planting.

Ray Gaudette sr., local volunteer Scout leader, is coordinating the planting for the scouts. Several scouts need to plant trees as part of their conservation merit badge requirements.

Trees have been planted at Edwards, Stallings, Maryville, Wilton and Prather schools.

The student council at the Prather school will help plant trees as there is no Boy Scout troop there.

Filing Deadline Nov. 30 on 'Con Con' Referendum

Preparations for the upcoming Illinois Constitution election, Dec. 15 are being made by Miss Eulalia Hotz, Madison County clerk. Voter registration is open at this time, and will close Nov. 30 in accordance with special legislation regarding this election.

Voters are to decide whether to replace the 1870 state constitution with a 1970 proposal written in a constitutional convention this year.

The law requires the county clerk to mail a rabid report explaining the proposals "Con Con" delegates have made for amendments to the constitution to every registered voter by Nov. 15. It has 26 pages of explanations on the subject.

The law further requires the ballot to be on blue paper, and voting machines cannot be used for this particular constitution election.

The same election judges who served in the general election Nov. 3 will, again preside at the polls.

Miss Hotz said that all costs incurred by counties in the mailing will be reimbursed by the state.

Illinois Study of Ulysses Grant -- 'Enterprising Lad'

As a lad, Ulysses S. Grant was precocious, fearless and enterprising according to his father, Jesse R. Grant, who was prevailed upon to recount the early life of the already famous Civil War general then being boomed for the presidency of the United States.

The paterfamilias emerged in a series of six letters published in the New York Ledger in March 1888. These are now being reprinted in the Ulysses S. Grant Association Newsletter, compiled by John V. Simon, association executive editor and Southern Illinois University historian. The first two appear in the current Newsletter.

Simon points out that General Grant tried to halt the publication of the letters and that Jesse Grant himself also had second thoughts about the publicity of his signature appearing on the documents.

The father suggested instead that "if, however, you wish to publish the facts, you can do so by changing the language as to be written by Mr. B. (Bartlett, a writer for the Ledger) or by Anonymous, and so entirely withhold my name."

Robert Bonner, editor of the Ledger, smoothly overruled the two Grants and published the letters, which became of popular public appeal and the major source of information about the 18th President's early years.

Note by Historian
Historian Simon warns that "the account appeared to have more authority than it really possessed. The correspondence between Bonner and the Grants does not clearly whether the letters represent verbatim transcriptions of Jesse Grant's words or a reporter's presentation of his reminiscences, though the latter is more likely."

Clearance through the executive board of directors of special events sponsored by organizations for the benefit of the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society was urged this week in a statement issued by Harold E. Ruyle, executive vice president of the Alton Savings and Loan Association and chairman of the unit's governing board.

Following a board meeting, Ruyle stated: "In an attempt to avoid confusion and misunderstanding, the executive board of the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society requires that all special events, staged for the benefit of the American Cancer Society, be cleared by members of the executive board prior to public announcement."

"It is further requested that all publicity carry the statement: 'This event has been approved by the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society.'"

Ruyle further stated, "The American Cancer Society holds its annual fund raising crusade in the month of April and it is during this nationally designated month that collections for the American Cancer Society are actively solicited."

Ecology of River Presented Today At St. Teresa's

St. Teresa Academy students experienced a lecture-demonstration on the "Ecology of the Mississippi River," presented today by a team of science students from Beloit College, Wis.

Gerald Worrick, biology instructor, was chairman of the event.

Known as "EnvironVan," the program is designed to stimulate study of the environment by secondary school students. In addition to the formal, lecture-hall presentation, the Beloit student scientists will conduct a field trip on Saturday for students of St. Teresa's and other area schools who have seen the presentation. In all, the Beloit students will spend 14 weeks "on the road," and share their insights with 78 high schools.

"We're finding so many people who think of pollution only in terms of the big industrial centers," reports Greg Fennette, 21, the geology major from Janesville, Wis., who is in charge. "We're trying to alert them to what's happening to the environment of their own farms and villages. We point out that not even the remotest crossroads is immune to deterioration."

Greg Fennette and Alan Crossley, 20, a physics major from Waterford, Conn., are making the tour to fulfill a minimum 15-week field experience requirement made of all Beloit college students.

The EnvironVan carries slide films and photographs made last summer for use in school presentations. It also contains literature for distribution about Beloit College and its newly erected $4 million science center.

"Only the biologist, the chemist, the geologist and the physicist can develop the processes and the equipment to do away with the water and air pollution and to restore the wasted land," Crossley says. "Once the physical scientists have done their jobs, the social scientists will then have the opportunity to work out lasting solutions to social problems."

2nd Ombudsman Named At SIU-Carbondale

Reginald Davis, Southern Illinois University's second ombudsman, has joined the ranks of "problem solvers" as one of the men who serve at about 51 colleges throughout the country.

But Davis, who is a 24-year-old black graduate of SIU, is a native of Chicago, sees himself as more than a "neutral mediator" of conflicts arising between students, staff and administration.

"As a black person concerned about needs and problems of black students, I see it as my job to see that the university and its facilities are as open to blacks as it is to whites," Davis explained.

Davis established last year an ombudsman's office on an experimental basis. After its opening, however, it was found that black students rarely used the services which it provided. Davis attributed this lack of identification and confidence of black students to systems established and maintained by whites.

Recommended for the position by SIU's Black America Studies Programming Board, Davis shares the ombudsman title with Mary Walker-Sly, first appointed ombudsman. Both have the responsibility of solving a wide range of student and staff problems ranging from parking, housing, motor vehicle regulations to financial assistance.

Moonspinners 4-H Club Appoints New Officers

The Moonspinners 4-H Club held its monthly meeting Nov. 5 at Nameoli United Presbyterian Church. Leaders are Mrs. Eleanor Kozel and Mrs. Carol Davis.

Jane Frederick opened the meeting, leading the Pledge of Allegiance. The 4-H Pledge was led by Mary Beth Favier.

New officers appointed for the year are president, Anne DeRuntz; vice-president, Tammy Dett; secretary, Ann Marie Uram; and treasurer, Theresa Butler.

Roll call was taken by the vice-president, and members answered giving the name of a flower that begins with the first letter of their first name. Minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer collected 4-H dues.

The leaders reminded the girls who will entertain at the Southwest District Homecoming meeting at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church tonight to be at the church by 7:30 p.m.

Begins Student Teaching
Jim Rains, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrean Rains of 2210 Dewey Ave., began his student teaching today in the secondary school at Bellevue, Iowa. He is a senior at Peru State College and is one of the 54 secondary and 18 elementary school student teachers from the college this semester.

A sewing meeting will take place at the church next Thursday. The girls are to bring their sewing books and a tape measurer.

Ecology Workshops Set at Little Grassy

Wintertime conservation workshops scheduled at Southern Illinois University's Little Grassy Lake Outdoor Laboratory may draw up to 400 Illinois high school students and teachers for field and class sessions on what's wrong with the environment.

Butressed with scholarship support from conservation agencies and civic clubs throughout the state, the two-month long series is designed to show workshopers causes and effects of overpopulation, air and water pollution, pesticide poisoning, wildlife depletion, thermal pollution, urban sprawl and land misuse.

If experience from the past three annual workshops is any guide, they'll also provoke some action on the hometown front.

Last spring, teachers were staged at Oak Park-River Forest, Cahokia, Deerfield, Bellevue, Maine East and other high schools as a direct result of student participation in the SIU winter workshops.

Two of the major supporters, the Illinois Wildlife Federation and the Illinois Wildlife Endowment, will sponsor 100 students at $50 each. The charge covers room and board at the Laboratory's lakeside Camp Ohois, plus tuition.

Two one-week adult sessions will be conducted between Feb. 28 and March 13. Teachers—who now must have some college conservation education to be certified—can get three quarter hours of graduate level credit from the workshops.

In Memoriam 33

In memory of RAY WIGGINS, Nov. 11, 1908: Today recalls sad memories. Of a loved one gone to rest: Those who think of you today, Are the ones who loved you best. What I would give to see you smile, To sit with me and talk awhile; The blow was sudden, the shock was severe. To part with one I loved so dear. I often sit and think of you, Things you used to say and do; I wonder why you had to die. Without a chance to say goodbye.

Most Convicts Repeat But Pattern Can Be Remedied, Crime Center at SIU Concludes

Most men now behind prison walls can look forward to their release some day. Sadly, the record shows, a majority of them will be returned to prison for new offenses.

This bleak statistic on crime, however, is no longer accepted as inevitable.

"The way a man is treated behind bars goes a long way toward determining how he will react once he is freed," says Henry Burns Jr., instructor in the Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections at Southern Illinois University.

Burns is the instructor for the first college degree course for corrections officers to be offered at the Illinois State Farm at Vandalia.

Every Thursday he makes the trip from Carbondale to teach a class of 33 persons at the prison, including 29 professors.

Retires After 25 Yrs. At Venice Plant.

Earnest H. Kassabum, 915 Twenty-fourth St., has retired from the Venice plant of Union Electric after 25 years service. He served his plant apprenticeship there and became a machinist in 1932, a position he held until his retirement.

Mr. Kassabum was born in Farmington, Mo., and began his education there, but moved to Deo Run, Mo., where he finished high school. He has worked in an auto repair shop and, during the war, for the government in an ammunition depot, but has spent the majority of his career as a machinist. He started as a machinist helper at the former Curtis-Wright St. Louis plant, but when they were purchased by McDonnell-Douglas 25 years ago, he moved to 1728 Madison Ave., Venice, and joined Union Electric.

He has been active in charitable activities here and belongs to several fraternal organizations including the East St. Louis Shrine Temple and Masonic Lodge.

He and his wife, Violet, plan to travel throughout the United States after a short period of rest. They have two married sons and four grandchildren.

Joseph Prince Moved To St. Mary's Hospital.

Joseph Prince, operator of the Sportsman's Club, Tenth and Iowa streets, Madison, was transferred earlier this week to St. Mary's Hospital, Clayton, Mo., where he is a patient in Room 466.

Prince, 67, suffered a stroke on Nov. 2 and was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital the same day. He remained at the local hospital until moved by ambulance Sunday to St. Mary's. He is expected to remain confined there for four weeks, a family spokesman said.

6th NAMEOKI VILLAGE SHOPPING CENTER'S ANNIVERSARY SALE

Thurs.-Fri.-Sat., Nov. 12-13-14

List of 'Safe' Food Additives Dwindling

"Generally recognized as safe" food additives are being pared down by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration to a list of long-used and time-tested substances such as salt, sugar, vinegar and a few others.

Since the dispute over cyclamates as a sugar substitute and the banning of certain elements in baby food, the several hundred items formerly 'judged safe' by the nation's leading experts on food safety are being carefully reviewed by the Food and Drug Administration, according to Marjorie Robinson, consumer specialist for the Chicago region.

She pointed out that in 1970 personal consumption expenditures of U. S. consumers are estimated to reach $610 billion. Of this total, 38 cents out of every dollar—or $230 billion—goes for products in some way regulated by the FDA.

"Consumers will spend an estimated $110 billion for food and beverages in 1970," she said. "This is an increase of 83% over 1961."

Convenience Food Trend

"Much of this increased consumer demand has been for convenience or snack-type foods. Also, Americans are dining out more. There is increased emphasis on easily-prepared meals, such as frozen prepared dinners supplied directly to the consumer and to restaurant chains, hotels and airlines.

"This trend increases FDA's responsibilities in the area of bacteria contamination of foods."

From two to 10 million cases of acute foodborne disease occur annually in the U. S., she said. "These diseases have been with man since time immemorial, but we're losing patience with them and turning more attention and resources to the problems of sanitation and foodborne disease."

Drug Use Up 73% in Decade

Discussing drugs, also regulated by the FDA, Miss Robinson said that consumer expenditures for drugs are rising from $5.6 billion to an estimated $9.7 billion in 1970, an increase of 73%.

"There are approximately 8000 firms involved in manufacturing, repackaging, relabeling, and distributing human drugs," she said.

"There are now about 7000 chemical compounds used for therapeutic purposes and these are available in 22,000 drug products.

"The most important, the most potent, and the most frequently used drugs are 10 years old or less."

Proof in Advance

Federal law requires that drugs be proved safe and effective for their intended uses, before they are marketed, she said. The manufacturer must research the product thoroughly, test it on animals, and then apply to the FDA for permission to use the drug for clinical use on humans under carefully controlled conditions.

"If FDA's medical scientists find that the research proves the new drug safe and effective for humans it then is available to the public."

Although two drug firms have been authorized to market the drug L-Dopa, a promising new treatment for Parkinson's Disease, both firms are required to continue research on the drug's long-term effects, she pointed out.

Transportation Meet Open Today at SIU-SW

Top officials of the U.S. Department of Transportation, the U.S. Coast Guard and McDonnell Douglas Corp. were to speak at a transportation planning conference at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus today and tomorrow.

The conference is designed to explain planning procedures of the Department of Transportation with special reference to the role of state and local agencies, and to present recommendations for new facilities in transportation.

Ira Dye, director of the Office of Systems, Requirements, Plans and Information of the Department of Transportation, was to discuss the transportation systems planning concepts at today's session.

Rear Adm. Russell Waeche, commander of the Second Coast Guard District, St. Louis, will speak on "Transportation and the Environment" at a dinner at the Holiday Inn today.

New Parents Group Organized at ISU

Initial steps have been taken at Illinois State University for the formation of a Parents Association which is to take over activities formerly planned under the leadership of separate associations for mothers and fathers of ISU students.

The nucleus of the association for parents was established at a breakfast meeting held on the ISU campus Saturday in connection with the annual observance of Dads Day.

The board will meet on the ISU campus at 9 a.m. Dec. 12 to complete the organization with election of a slate of officers and adoption of a constitution.

Miss Nell Bailey, assistant dean of student services at Illinois State, is coordinating plans for the establishment of the association.

Rear of Auto Struck

An auto driven by Harry D. Johnson, Danville, struck the rear motor lid of a car driven by Edgar L. Mize, Edwardsville, at noon Monday at 29th street and Edison Avenue.

SGT. MICHAEL KLOBE Michael Klobe Earns Promotion in Vietnam

Michael D. Klobe, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Klobe, 2015 Sunset Drive, recently was promoted to the rank of sergeant while serving at the Da Nang Air Force Base in South Vietnam.

Sgt. Klobe, 20, arrived in Vietnam last May. He was graduated in 1968 from Granite City High School and enlisted in the Air Force a short time later.

The serviceman's brother, 2nd Lt. Larry T. Klobe, 23, presently is training at an Air Force flight school at Enid, Okla. He is a January 1970 graduate of the University of Illinois and entered the service in March.

Lt. Klobe is married to the former Miss Diane Luther of Belleville.

Sgt. Klobe's name and address appears in today's Yule Mail Call list.

Others elected were Sid Magness, vice-president; Ollie Miller, treasurer; Art Schrage, recording secretary; and Atha Taylor, Walter Kester and Charles W. Miles, trustees.

TRANSFORMATION OF A PRETTY GIRL
(Gail Joachimsthaler) into "the old Witch" for her role in the Masquers production, "Rumplestiltskin," is accomplished through the artistry of makeup. The sequence of photographs shows Gail as she really is (at far left); with her hair flattened and a pointed nose affixed; Al Erickson III paints deep lines around the eyes and mouth; and thick eyebrows are applied. Even the eyes appear to be a different shape in the finished version of a venomous-looking witch. "Rumplestiltskin" will be presented at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Saturday at Granite City high school auditorium.

Masquers Spin Straw Into Gold

(The following article was written by a Granite City high school student, F. Gordon Muel, speech instructor, who reviewed the Masquers production, "Rumplestiltskin," staged in Collinsville last weekend. The same show will be presented at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium of Granite City high school.)

The Masquers opened their second decade of great theatre in the area with its first Children's Theatre production of "Rumplestiltskin." Children's Theatre has been sadly neglected in the St. Louis area, and this charming, colorful show is a refreshing and welcome sight.

Parents who are sickened by the nudity and violence of recent films should take advantage of this timeless tale. The Masquers have spared no expense or time in mounting a beautiful and entertaining show. Beverly Scroggins, the talented director of Rumplestiltskin, also designed the clever settings and the colorful costumes.

It is refreshing to see a play devoid of ham-actors; rather, there is careful ensemble playing. This is the highest compliment that a director and cast can receive. Special note should be made for several outstanding performances.

Margie Pennell, last seen in the Granite City high school faculty production of "Barefoot in the Park," radiates just the right blend of beauty and charm as the Miller's Daughter, Sully Riddle, in the title role of Rumplestiltskin, skillfully enacts a demanding characterization. The Miller (Jay Frey) and his wife (Kathleen Field) excel in humor as the opportunistic parents. Ellynn Tinney (Gothel) and Charles Norris (Inger) add just the right wild and wacky touch to the proceedings.

The familiar plot of Rumplestiltskin needs no synopsis, but the short fairy-tale has been expanded into a full-length theatrical play. The last act is a bit heavy with exposition, but interest picks up once the plot starts rolling. The rapport between the audience and the cast grew so close that by the final scene the audience was squealing in delight and anticipation of the final outcome.

The true test of any theatre group is not just endurance; it is a test of professional growth and quality. I remember seeing the Masquers' first energetic production over ten years ago. One has only to examine their current seasons of plays to see their professional growth. Brilliant satire—The Thurbur Carnival; exciting serious drama—The Crucible; bubbling musical comedy—Mame.

Let's hope that the Masquers can continue to spin straw into gold for countless decades of great theatre.

Home and Aid Society To Host Open House

The Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society will host an open house reception Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the new regional office located at 1000 College Avenue, Alton. It was announced today by Miss Mary Yowell, director.

A United Fund Agency, the Society extends an invitation to the public whereby they will have the opportunity to acquaint people with the new office and services rendered by the agency. The Society is an adoption agency for the Alton-Wood River area.

Local Quad-City residents who serve on the board of directors are Mrs. Winnie Sasyk, Milton Morris, Mrs. Bette Rea, who holds the office of secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Jo Ann Kraus, to be hospitality chairman for the forthcoming affair.

More Contact Among Urban Areas of World Is Proposed

Urbanization is one of the strongest forces operating in the world, in the view of William Weismantel, who has just joined the earth sciences faculty at SIU-SW.

Weismantel says that because of similar problems and goals, the residents of Paris, France, have much in common with residents of New York City.

He suggests that the arms race and threats of war perpetuated by national communities are at odds with interests of the metropolitan communities of the world in two ways: Residents of mammoth communities are bearing the cost of arms and hostilities, to the neglect of their internal needs for more housing, redevelopment, antipollution investments and welfare.

The SIU-SW professor proposes an international exchange of street statues; large cities of this country could export bronze Civil War generals, and import monuments of obscure oriental, European, Latin American and African heroes from large cities in other lands.

Nationality Neighborhoods He also favors immigration, emigration and preservation of nationality neighborhoods as "means of averting the self-destruction of the world community."

The idea, he says, is to make it apparent that every large city belongs to an international community more than to a national community.

A former resident of this metropolitan area, he has noted many changes which have taken place since he left nearly six years ago. Among the changes are:

The introduction of Interstate 24 and 270 have changed the shape of the metropolitan area from star-shaped to more of a doughnut shape.

Major industrial expansion has taken place in west St. Louis county.

Apartment construction in the suburbs has grown from almost none to thousands of units.

More common open spaces, particularly as ribbons of trees from the city.

along creeks, are being designed into the new family housing development.

Disappointments he cites in the area include:

A great number of all-white suburban communities and school districts.

Recreational and cultural centers have not developed to meet increasing population demands. The St. Louis area is a place where many rivers converge, and yet the rivers are not easily accessible for family recreation.

Weismantel said it is amazing how the St. Louis downtown district has converted from a warehouse and retail center to a symbolic and cultural center.

He regrets that, so far, large corporations with their impressive office buildings have gotten more from the Jefferson National Expansion Monument than have vacationing families who come to experience the Gateway to the West.

He notices a sense of disorientation and inability to give directions suffered by most suburban residents. This can be traced to the independent conglomeration of small tracts of farmland into city.

"Rural Renewal" Needed The planning professor suggests a "rural renewal" stage, when small tracts are reassembled into larger ones, in between the rural and suburban stages of land development.

For the future, Professor Weismantel suggests that cities in development of large new towns of from 100,000 to 300,000 at Washington University in St. Louis and SIU at Carbondale and the Southwestern campus.

He suggests that new towns could take advantage of planning to allow more esthetic public housing, availability of employment, integrated neighborhood schools, and shopping centers which would also serve as community centers.

In addition, by moving that far from the urban center, abundant recreational space would be available and mass transit could be built into the program.

Weismantel is a native of St. Louis and until recently was a member of the architecture faculty at the University of New Mexico. In addition, he served as a lecturer in law at the same school.

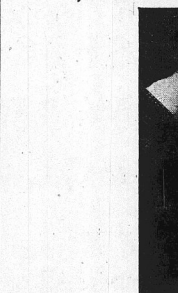

Professor Weismantel earned the bachelor's degree in civil engineering from the University of Missouri (Rolla) and received a law degree from the Harvard Law School and the doctor of philosophy degree in city and regional planning from Harvard University.

He will be teaching courses in urban planning at SIU-SW. The new faculty member has practiced as a planning consultant with the firm of Harland Bartholomew and Associates both in this country and abroad.

He was subsequently on the staff of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, where he concentrated on administrative and legal problems of zoning, design review, urban renewal and public housing.

He has taught urban planning at Washington University in St. Louis and SIU at Carbondale and the Southwestern campus.

He'll tell you his troubles.

Guys like this must be good for something. Think hard. Harder yet. Like maybe holding a board while you do the hammering. And providing the wife a place to visit. And—there must be something else. How about when you need help? It's like talking to

Gambles on Career in Art, Plans Own Show

Don Davis of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's art faculty gambled on a career in art and won.

Davis, whose one-man exhibit at South County Bank, Lindbergh and Lemay Ferry, St. Louis, will open Nov. 16, earned his first two degrees in history, English and human relations.

Following a two-year stint with the U. S. Army, in 1957 he became an instructor at DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and a personnel administrator in the dean of students office.

As a hobby, he enrolled in art classes at DePauw. His enthusiasm reached such a peak he decided to spend a summer at John Herron Art Institute in nearby Indianapolis. "It was a test balloon," Davis says, "to see if I was capable of professional art or if it should remain a hobby."

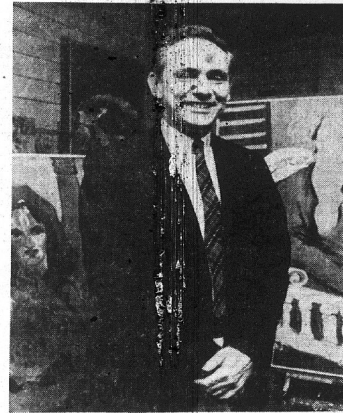

The decision to embark on a career in art was his own. "No one encouraged me," he says. "On the other hand, no one discouraged me. If I flunked out, O.K., at least I'd have the satisfaction of having tried."

Davis says he often heard his father lament not trying "this or that" as a career.

A native of Circleville, Ohio, and recipient of two degrees from Ohio University, Davis chose Ohio State University as the place to earn his second master's degree, this time in painting and graphics.

It was while at Ohio State, where he had an assistantship, that he met his wife, Dagmar, who came to America from Germany when she was 13. "She was my coffee break waitress," Davis smiled in recollection. Ben Davis and Dagmar were working part-time at a Columbus department store when they met.

Out-of-State Students On Upgrade at SIU

The number of out-of-state students attending Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has increased despite two hikes in non-resident tuition since last year.

A preliminary (and unofficial) computer count shows 1,795 SIU-at-Carbondale students registered from 48 other states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone. That's 11% more than last year.

In that time, tuition for out-of-staters went from $206 per quarter to $388 per quarter, not counting assorted fees.

Totals do not include foreign students, of which about 800 are estimated in residence this fall. Only Nevada is missing from the list of states outside of Illinois represented on SIU's record fall enrollment list of 23,483 students at Carbondale.

Pollution Pyramid Piled At SIU's Homecoming

A "pollution pyramid," a queen without a crown, and a night parade all combined to season Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus 1970 homecoming activities with a non-traditional flavor.

"A Question of Balance—It's Up To You," the theme of the 1970 homecoming festivities, was emphasized by a bonfire originally designed not to burn. The bonfire went up in smoke anyway due to the efforts of an apparent prankster.

The "pyramid," constructed southwest of the SIU Arena, was composed of bags of trash collected last week in a city-wide clean-up day. Local residents, SIU students, grade and high school students joined forces for seven hours and collected about five city garbage truck loads of material. The trashpile was piled into "the pyramid" and was to be removed and collected by city sanitation trucks, before it was consumed by fire.

A bevy of floats designed and constructed by student organizations graced the after-dark homecoming parade Friday night. Their themes dealt with the ecological crisis which also reflected the theme of the weekend's activities.

A first-place prize in float competition went to Alpha Eta Rho, a service fraternity, whose float featured a large pollution scale weighing an automobile and Snoopy piloted plane.

Another prize-winning float, constructed by Alpha Gamma Rho, portrayed the pollution crisis with a globe of protruding arms and legs.

Joyce Kakacek, a sophomore from Naperville, was named Miss SIU during halftime of the SIU-Bradley football game before an estimated crowd of 15,000 football fans.

A massive 88-2 victory over Bradley University topped off Saturday's homecoming events as well as a stage show featuring Massin Williams, composer and guitarist, and comedian Pat Paulsen.

St. Teresa to Stage Musical 'Hallelujah'

The second production for the year 1970-71 to be presented by the St. Teresa Academy Players, Inc., will be Jule Styne's fantastic musical creation "Hallelujah Baby," scheduled for production on Jan. 8, 9, 10, and 12, 1971.

The third production, set for Feb. 3, 4, 5, 1971, will be "The Lottery," by Brainerd Duffield. Auditions for "Hallelujah Baby" are being held now. If anyone interested has not been able to make these auditions, they may call Sister Paulette Huber, at 874-7922, for an individual audition.
